Higher priority for further assessment

Discussion/Rationale:

Preliminary Assessment identified sludge ponds, aeration basins, treated water ponds, emergency spill ponds, landfills, and other potential source areas. Contaminants of concern from similar pulp and paper mills (not necessarily at this site, but found elsewhere) have included PCBs, petroleum hydrocarbons, PAHs, arsenic and other metals, chlorinated organic compounds, including dioxins, furans, phenols and others. The Clark Fork River is the western boundary of the site and there are domestic well users within a mile of one of the storage ponds. The ponds used at the site were unlined. These factors contribute to the need for further assessment.
